The Hungry Horse Restaurant Closes at the end of May 2017

The Hungry Horse restaurant located on the second floor of the Owen Roberts International Airport will be closing at the end of May in order to facilitate ongoing Level 2 office construction work scheduled to be completed in September 2017. The closing of the restaurant will include the closing of the breezeway which will become additional office space. The CIAA is currently discussing potential relocation options with the Hungry Horse for the benefit of passengers and staff.

West End Construction

Construction work on the 8ft security wall located on the west end of the airport will be completed by the end of April. The wall will then be rendered on both sides and the footpath will be returned to service. The west end work will include the completion of the security guard hut, geothermal pump house, the installation of a 1750KVA generator which will come on line in August 2017.

Phase 2 North Ticketing

Phase 2 Ticketing lobby continues and is scheduled to be operational in September 2017. The roof membrane is now complete and foundations for the new "Bird Air" canopy curbside are ongoing.

RUBiS Fuel Farm Update

The RUBiS fuel farm site has now been handed over to McAlpine and work will now commence on the employee and bus parking lots. The scheduled handover date for employee/bus parking is December 2017.

Geothermal System

The last section of geothermal piping has now been installed and the system is now complete and ready for testing. Commissioning of the line and system is not scheduled until September 2017.
